Time for the People to Rule

Daytona is facing one of the most momentous decisions by its citizens in many years—the adoption of a new charter which includes the features of a municipal form of government. The question is one of such importance that good government in the city of Daytona stands or falls on the outcome of the vote cast January 24th.

For the past six years Daytona has been managed by a commission composed of three citizens, whose duties have included the supervision of various departments of city government, appointed among themselves according to their desires and wishes. During these six years there has been more or less dissatisfaction among taxpayers by the operation of the charter under which the commission worked. Thence the decision of many taxpayers, who are the best interests of the city at heart, to offer a new charter for the operation of city government, which would include features that have been found successful in other communities where conditions are somewhat similar to Daytona.

The voting public, through meetings, discussion and the press, are made of less familiar with the main points of improvement which the proposed charter contains, as compared to the present one. The Daily News hopes before election day to be able to make even clearer some of the points of the charter that may not have been thoroughly explained. The adoption of the charter means up-to-date city government, the installation of a business manager at the head of the corporation who has made a life study of such government, and a co-ordination of duties by city employees which, it is believed, will give this city the best form of municipal government. More anon.

Because of the limitation of time for submitting to a vote the new city charter, it will be necessary that Daytona hold its primary for city commissioners on January 17, one week previous to the charter election. At that time electors will be called upon to vote for three candidates as commissioners. The four receiving the highest number of votes will go into the regular election, if the new charter has not carried and is not in working order by that time. The adoption of the charter would do away with the election of commissioners, as the charter calls for the election of seven commissioners separate from those nominated at the January 17 primary.

Because of the fact that the commissioners chosen at the primary one week from today may not serve does not lessen the duty of the voter to go to the polls and cast a vote for their candidate. A preponderance of votes for certain candidates will carry with it a moral effect on the passage of the charter which should not be overlooked.

The men and women of Daytona owe it to themselves and to their city to go to the polls next Tuesday and to exercise their municipal franchise.

The elector who takes the trouble to do so, and who votes as conscience dictates, is a better citizen—however mistaken he may be in his choice of candidates—than the one who sits back and lets the day go by without going to the polling booth.

There are people who say that they are in favor of good government and that they know so-and-so is a good candidate, but who do not bother getting out to vote for him because they think that the wire-pullers and the opportunists will have a majority, anyway. That is poor logic as well as poor civic patriotism. The only way to get good government is to vote for it.

In the choice of candidates for city commissioners there should be little effort on the part of progressive, right thinking people to pick three whom they know will work for the greater good of the city.

DAYTONA HAS BEEN FOR TOO LONG A TIME DOMINATED BY THE BERT FISH INTERESTS POLITICALLY. The time is here when Daytona must cut the tendrils of this growing OCTUPUS and FREE ITSELF OF THIS GRASPING, LIFE-ABSORBING INFLUENCE which for many years has held this city in its death grip. One of the most progressive cities in every other way, Daytona has been GROUND UNDER THE HEEL OF THIS POLITICAL BOSS, HAS BEEN MADE TO CRAWL TO HIS EVERY DEMAND AND HAS LOST PRESTIGE AND ITS BACKBONE THROUGH DOMINATION OF DAYTONA OFFICIALS BY THIS WOLF IN THE SHEEP'S CLOTHING.

For the first time in many years Daytona has the opportunity to cut itself free and to prove to the state and to the world that it is a city able to stand on its own, and will not be BROW-BEATEN AND CRUSHED BY THIS INFLUENCE FOR EVIL—AN INFLUENCE WHICH IS TAKING ALL, PERSONALLY, AND GIVING THE CITY NOTHING IN RETURN.

Relief from these once-powerful tendrils of the DE LAND OCTUPUS is offered by the choice of three men as city commissioners who cannot be bought nor sold—who will reflect in their every move the will of the majority and over whom this bug-a-boo can have no influence. They are men who have the best interests of the city at heart, who will, if elected, serve the city without fear or favor. These three are:

DR. ADDISON O'NEILL, resident of Daytona for many years, prominent throughout the state as a leading osteopath, and a man who will back his convictions with actions.

WILLIAM B. GOLDBERG, one of the most prominent leaders in local Chamber of Commerce work, industrious worker for the good of the city as a whole and a man who cannot be bought nor sold.

E. G. WEAVER, Daytona business man, whose influence for the good of the city has extended over many years and whose business interests fit him for a city administration.

These three men—O'Neill, Goldberg and Weaver—should constitute the board of city commissioners nominated January 17th. They are worth getting out to vote for. They will be a board vigilant in Daytona's interests, an economical board and one which will support every worthy and sound public project.

NEXT TUESDAY, VOTE AGAINST BERT FISH AND FOR O'NEILL, GOLDBERG AND WEAVER.

The average rental of farms is only 3 1/2 per cent of the value of the land. This is announced by the Department of Agriculture, after an "extensive investigation" which included a third of all rented farms. On the basis of these figures, farm tenantry is not as big a problem as has been generally believed. Most of the great American problems exist only vaguely, if at all. In the midst of comparative plenty, we Americans buy at the street lamp, thinking it's the moon.

SPEEDY ACTION ON SOLDIER BONUS BILL THE PLAN OF SENATE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Senate Finance committee was prepared today to put into concrete form the soldier bonus and foreign debt funding legislation agreed upon Saturday night at the conference between President Harding and leading members of the committee.

These two subjects and tariff revision were slated for speedy action when the committee met today for the first time, with the exception of one brief meeting, since the death of its chairman, Senator Penrose.

As the situation now stands, a revised foreign debt bill will be presented with the time for the collection of interest left entirely in the hands of the secretary of the treasury instead of being set semi-annually. The soldier bonus would be paid from the proceeds of the interest.

Senator McCumber (R.) of North Dakota in the chair and slated for permanent chairman under the seniority rules, the committee presented a somewhat different balance of power and opinion than before the holidays.

McCumber, as a member of the agricultural bloc, was certain to favor the agricultural interests on the tariff. It seemed probable the farmers would win the tariff doctrine they have demanded—a doctrine asking the same measure of protection for agriculture as is granted to industry—and no more.

McCumber's ascendancy undoubtedly will speed the bonus and the foreign debt bills.

Under the bonus plan, which the majority of the committee are understood to favor the bonus, and the foreign debt bill.

The British government, for naval purposes, is heavily interested in this corporation, holding preferred and common stock to the value of £2,000,000 pounds.

Colvin B. Brown to Speak on Thursday Evening at Casino

Colvin B. Brown, of Washington, chief of the organization bureau of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who will arrive in Daytona Thursday afternoon, will be entertained by the directors of the local chamber of commerce with a dinner at Cattaneo's at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening.

At 8 o'clock Mr. Brown will deliver an address to the public in the City Hall. Members of the chamber of commerce are especially urged to attend this meeting and the members of all other clubs and organizations and the public generally are invited to be present.

These plans for the reception of the distinguished guest were decided on last night at a meeting of the board of directors held in the office of Secretary S. B. Crosby.

Mr. Brown will reach Daytona on the 1:23 train Thursday afternoon, coming direct from St. Augustine where he will speak tomorrow evening. He will be met by the chamber of commerce directors and taken for an automobile tour of the Triple Cities and the Halifax Country.

Mr. Brown is a recognized authority on problems confronting local chambers of commerce and is especially familiar with those problems that are characteristic of tourist towns. He has traveled extensively in California and will be in position to give the local chamber the benefit of his knowledge of the conditions met by tourist towns and cities in California and the way in which they are handled.

At the meeting of the directors last night, W. B. Goldenberg submitted a report on the good roads conference of the southeastern district, held in Jacksonville last week under the auspices of the American Automobile Association.

Two new members were received into the organization. They were Mrs. Mary Koxby, of the Mary Koxby Shop, and A. E. Nichols, local representative of the Oseola Fertilizer Company of Jacksonville.

COUNTERFEITING EPIDEMIC OVER WHOLE COUNTRY

"CAMERA FIENDS" WORRYING THE UNITED STATES SECRET SERVICE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—An epidemic of counterfeiting, involving amateur photographers, is sweeping the United States, it was learned today.

This activity of "camera fiends" is taking to the utmost the full resources of the U. S. Secret Service, according to W. H. Moran, chief of the Service.

It is the most widespread in the history of the country.

The camera, according to Chief Moran, not only revolutionized the "art" of counterfeiting but completely wiped out of existence the old-fashioned hand engraving counterfeiter. The secret service now battles with the sciences of photography practiced chiefly by amateurs.

A new menace also has been detected in an influx of "phony" bills from abroad. The production of spurious American money, according to Moran, is "generally prevalent" in European countries.

Records of the secret service show that 1,325 arrests were made last year. Pennsylvania the "worst" State led with New York and Illinois its close rivals. Among the states classed as "troublesome" were Michigan, Ohio, California, Oklahoma, Texas, Washington, Missouri and Massachusetts in the order named.

The South Atlantic states had the "best records."

The government's agents are also coping with widespread counterfeiting of revenue stamps, check forgery and note forgery. The activity of revenue stamp counterfeiting, it was learned, has given the secret service particular concern.

"In many instances," said Moran, "we found that these counterfeit stamps were used on poisonous concoctions which were sold as bottled-inchill whiskey. Several plants were seized where machinery was kept to counterfeit not only the revenue stamps, but the caution and distiller's label as well."

The public, it was learned is protected against most of the currency counterfeiting by the output of the output.

"The counterfeiting of currency is widespread," Moran said, "and the notes are easily detected. There is such an activity, however, in counterfeiting as at present that it is principally the work of photographers who take photographic copies of the notes. Several of these have been detected in New York and are being tried before we hear of them."

Dr. House Speaks on "How to Heal One's Self" Today

This afternoon at the Congregational church, Dr. E. L. House, who is delivering a course of lectures in the city at this time, spoke on "How to Heal One's Self." In part he said:

"No man can heal himself, but in earnest cooperation there is a good success to be achieved. What is this cooperation? It demands knowledge. It is dangerous to move without knowledge. We must know about the mixing of foods, if we would be well. Ignorance may poison the system. If it is important to know how to run an engine, it is more important to know how to run one's self. Science brings us the conscious and the subconscious realms of mind to help us get healing. The conscious mind directs and governs the subconscious mind. The first is the architect, the second is the builder. Through conscious direction the subconscious mind will change the chemistry of the body, eradicate disease, renew the tissues, and repair the wastes of weakness. The science of healing, often shows that greater efficiency for healing can be found in the patient than in the doctor. Mental expectation and anticipation are involved in every form of treatment."

"How to heal one's self demands spiritual knowledge. The superconscious mind in you is the spirit, or God in you to help and lead you into spiritual attainments. Through the spirit mind God can enter your life to give you help. Mental healing is your own ability, given you in certain restricted power that does remarkable things, but spiritual healing is having the All Power in you. Just as the light has back of it the power house, so back of you is God. God can be underneath our load and weakness and is able to give us help. How to heal one's self demands faith. First, get scientific faith; that which is born of knowledge. Remember that nature is working for your cure, and that even the body makes anti-toxins that help out. Get spiritual faith. Lay hold of the facts in the Bible. According to your faith be it unto you. Ask the Lord to best within you greater faith, and it will come. Affirm your position in the Lord; it will help you. Be no longer. Work with an honest physician who is trained in the knowledge of the body, join hands with the osteopath and the chiropractor. For this often help nature. But never forget the changeless fact: 'I am the Lord that healeth thee.'"

Dr. House spoke last night on "Concentration." Dr. House in his lecture said: "Concentration is steam at the piston; it is to bring your DO up to your AM. It means specialization. Special habits of study will give memory, attention, expression and concentration. To concentrate is to discriminate. Gold is better than silver, and health is worth more than money. Why should a man make the first twenty years of his life, health seeking wealth, and then the next twenty years wealth seeking health? Why not make less money and have more health? Concentration means demonstration. You are in the world to demonstrate, to show that you have the goods. 'Show me' is the cry everywhere, and you must, in order to succeed. You demonstrate by demonstrating. You learn to walk by walking, to talk by talking. Go ahead and do your best in every place where you are and you will make yourself come to something worth while. Obligate your concentration to a life and not to a living. This is the goal of all being."

Dr. House will lecture tonight on "Jesus, the Conscious Mind of God," termed the greatest lecture of the series.

Only Winner of Match

Quite a number of local people as well as tourists enjoyed the training stunts that the boys who will take part in the boxing contest next Monday night went through yesterday at the beach. Although several challenges have been issued for anyone desiring to put on the gloves with the boys, very few have taken the opportunity to do so, and they are missing the pleasure of a friendly set to that would do them some good. To get a work-out with some of these boys will live up a sluggish liver better than any liver medicine ever compounded. The boys went through the regular stunts and a few more, and the spectators enjoyed the exhibition, which is put on every afternoon either in front of the Clarendon or the Seaside Inn.

In addition to the money prizes offered, Frank Tracey has offered the winners of the final and the semi-final bouts the best hat to be found in the Waldorf Shop. Mr. Tracey is one of the most interested fight fans in the community and awarded the winners of the last two bouts held at the Armory a short time ago with season tickets for the baseball games to be played this summer.

Many local people are planning to attend the next series of bouts to be held on Monday the 16th, and all indications point to another crowded house.

Frank Tracey is Offering Hat for Only Winner of Match

Quite a number of local people as well as tourists enjoyed the training stunts that the boys who will take part in the boxing contest next Monday night went through yesterday at the beach. Although several challenges have been issued for anyone desiring to put on the gloves with the boys, very few have taken the opportunity to do so, and they are missing the pleasure of a friendly set to that would do them some good. To get a work-out with some of these boys will live up a sluggish liver better than any liver medicine ever compounded. The boys went through the regular stunts and a few more, and the spectators enjoyed the exhibition, which is put on every afternoon either in front of the Clarendon or the Seaside Inn.

In addition to the money prizes offered, Frank Tracey has offered the winners of the final and the semi-final bouts the best hat to be found in the Waldorf Shop. Mr. Tracey is one of the most interested fight fans in the community and awarded the winners of the last two bouts held at the Armory a short time ago with season tickets for the baseball games to be played this summer.

Many local people are planning to attend the next series of bouts to be held on Monday the 16th, and all indications point to another crowded house.

Attention Called to Health Exposition

Secretary S. B. Crosby of the Chamber of Commerce has received a letter from Governor Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky calling attention to the National Health Exposition which is to be held in Louisville February 1-9. Governor Morrow writes that commercial products which promote the comfort and happiness of the people may be shown in the limited space set aside for such features and that this space will be available for a very short time. He asks that the secretary call this fact to the attention of any persons who are wish to send exhibits to the exposition.

Mr. Crosby asks that any persons interested in the exhibit communicate with him at once as the necessary arrangements can be made.

White-Robed Members of the Invisible Empire Marched Through Bunnell Last Night

BUNNELL, Jan. 10.—(Special to the News.)—The night of the mysterious disappearance of the three white-robed figures marching through the streets of Bunnell last night, and moving silently through the principal streets, gave the people of this little city their first view of a demonstration in large numbers of the members of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

Although there had been no announcement that the Klan would stage a parade here, the news spread rapidly and by the time the head of the parade, which was formed somewhere outside the city, had reached the main business section, the streets were lined with eager throngs that craned their necks and strained their eyes to get a better view of the white-clad host.

Frieda Hempel to Sing Here Feb. 1 at the Auditorium

Frieda Hempel, "The Jenny Lind of Today," has been compared to a lark and a nightingale, and a golden-throated canary—and to all the feathered songsters that have a right to be jealous of her birdlike notes. After writing that Frieda Hempel was at her crystalline best in a remarkable performance of "La Traviata" last season at Milwaukee, Wis., the critic goes on to say:

"Never was her glorious voice more brilliant in tone, more glitteringly brilliant in the rapidity of her execution and the very last note was as lovely as the first, nay, lovelier."

"It is a wonderful thing to be able to sing like that, and Hempel apparently does it with the same lack of effort that a meadow lark does. She never 'attacks' a note, but lights upon it with the daintiness of a bird of this dimension."

"As for songs and jewels, gorgeous is the word, for she floated through the opera like a rare butterfly."

Miss Hempel sings many operatic roles, but in no role is the prima donna more radiant and dazzling than as Frieda Hempel, herself on the stage in the wonderful gown she had made for her in Paris. She will be heard at the Auditorium February 1.

The High school team romped on the rubber at Y. M. C. A. team last night and defeated the league batters in the rubber at the score of 12 to 0 in one of the best indoor baseball games of the season.

The game went to eleven innings and was the first extra inning game played this year. Pitching for the "Y," gave up fifteen hits, while Kauffman, pitching for the High School, allowed fifteen. Only three of the runs scored by the "Y" were earned while all twelve scored by the High School were earned.

AMERICANS IN CANADA ENJOY WINTER SPORTS

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 10.—Winter sports are in full swing in Algonquin Park and hundreds of tourists from Canada and the United States are holding high revel in the snow, which is deep over the town square miles of principal wilderness, comprised within the borders of this great international playground.

Snowshoeing is one of the most popular pastimes. Gay parties set out on long hikes through the forest day and night. Over the hills they make their way, along the margin of ice-sheeted lakes, through unending woods of pine, tamarack and spruce, drinking in health with every breath, returning in the twilight with ruddy cheeks and sharp appetites.

Of the 1157 motor chins in service during 1920 only 97 saw the Canadian flag.

That one million tons of almost pure iron have been mined in the Lake Abitibi region.
